What Is Biomechanical Contouring?

The human foot is asymmetrically shaped and curved with a natural angled flex zone, as illustrated in the diagram. Your bowling shoes should be the same. Brunswick's performance shoes were designed with this in mind. The biomechanical contour of the shoe along with innovative flex bars work together with the natural movement of the foot to provide the ultimate in flexibility, comfort and function.

Ortholite® 3D Deluxe Insoles provide lightweight, breathable comfort

- Open cell foam draws moisture away from the foot
- Extremely lightweight
- Higher compression for better cushion
- Anti-Microbial
- Anti-Odor

The Brunswick High Performance Slide Pad and Heel System gives bowlers options for increased slide and grip

For your perfect match, determine the lane approach condition and your bowling style and consult the chart below to select the slide pad and heel combination that will give you the exact slide amount you need.

Slide Pad	SP-02	SP-04	SP-06	SP-08	SP-10
Heel	Brown Suede	Blue Suede	Perforated White Microfiber	White Microfiber	Grey Felt
H-2 Shark Tooth	4	6	8	10	12
H-5 Graduated Rubber	7	9	11	13	15
H-7 Blue Leather	9	11	13	15	17

* Note the higher number equates to more slide and the lower number equates to more brake

Brunswick® FlexSlide Technology™

We asked bowlers what they wanted in a shoe. In addition to style, performance, and comfort, bowlers said they wanted a shoe that gave them “slide” the first time, and every time. Not just after an initial “break-in” period. In response to that, we developed The Brunswick FlexSlide™ sole that gives bowlers the slide factor they asked for.

The Brunswick FlexSlide™ sole is an innovative system of engineered materials, maximizing slide consistency in any direction. They are environmentally friendly, more durable than current competitive materials, and they slide the first time, every time.

“Brunswick bowling shoes slide out of the box!”
